Riverside a Forbes Best-in-State Employer

Riverside has once again been named to the Forbes list of America's Best-in-State Employers, marking our third appearance on the list of the most highly regarded employers in Massachusetts. This award is the result of an anonymous survey that included questions on working conditions, diversity, salary, and the potential for development.

Introduction to a Family Partner

From time to time, we like to offer a little insight into a Riverside program or role that may not be familiar to many. This time, we'd like to introduce you to Zoe McAnulty, a Family Partner with Riverside's Mobile Crisis Intervention Team in Norwood. Family Partners have experience as caregivers for youth with mental health challenges or special needs and are uniquely suited to help parents and guardians navigate the child-serving systems and identify community resources for their children.

Riverside Community Care makes a difference in the lives of individuals, families, and communities through innovative and compassionate behavioral healthcare and human services. A community-based non-profit organization, Riverside offers a wide range of mental healthcare, developmental and brain injury services, early childhood and youth programs, addiction treatment, trauma response, and more. And we're now reaching a global audience with evidence-based mental health and substance use services that include educational programs, training, consulting, and crisis response for schools, organizations, and mental health professionals.
